

Adopt a Heritage Rice

Rice holds a special place in our culture. It symbolises abundance, fertility and joy.

Now, you can help conserve this grain.

We have travelled across the country and reached out to numerous paddy farmers and researchers to collect the heritage rice seeds. Today, over 260 varieties of heritage rice are being conserved at Swami Dayananda Farms in Manjakkudi. Often we would receive a handful of these precious grains, which takes us over three or even four years before we have enough seeds to cultivate and share with consumers. Seed conservation demands passion and effort, and importantly generous help from donors like you to continue our work.

Your support will support the conservation, regeneration and distribution of these heritage rice varieties. Importantly, it will leave our soil richer.
